What does your sponsorship do?

You would be sponsoring an event highlighting a key public health concern of mental health awareness. This event will be kicking off before May, Mental Health Awareness Month.

We will be providing education that will offer simple, practical solutions for anyone to enhance their life. If you are an employer, this may be just the event to have employees learn skills to balance their life/work to enhance the overall quality of their workload.

Through sponsorships, we will be able to provide production, food and beverage to our attendees. We will shower them with wellness gifts and giveaways! We also are raising money to remove barriers for people to have access to quality mental health care who may not have the ability to afford treatment.

Joining the 1st Rising Hope Conference will give you:

- Provide an opportunity to reach out and connect with community members through a different, positive platform.
- Promote your brand, products and services.
- Boost employee morale by coming together to support an important cause outside the work environment.
- Demonstrate your support for mental health awareness and the women of your community.
- Promote an active lifestyle and holistic wellness.
